231716353580 Do you know anything about what happens to the children of my great grandmother, Margaret Radcliff? I believe Margaret died in September of 1951 in Fort Worth, Tx. When she died I believe she had a daughter and her name was Bessie. It seems that my great grandmother, Margaret Radcliff had a daughter named Bessie, but her death date is missing. I would love to know if there is a chance that Bessie and her parents are buried in Fort Worth. I did find that in Tarrant County they were buried in the Owens-Powers Cemetery. I also know that my Great Grandmother was named Margaret and I know where she is buried as well. They are both in the St. John Vianney Cemetery in Canton, Tx. Please help. Martha L. Carlson Yes I do, the right hand part of Margaret Radcliff's tombstone is at St. John Vianney Catholic Cemetery (Canton, Texas), and the left hand side of the same tombstone is at the St. John's Vianney Cemetery in Fort Worth. The names of the 2 adjacent Cemeteries on the tombstone are all pronounced the same. That means you are correct, the child Bessie's parents are buried in St. John's Vianney Cemetery in Fort Worth. If you have any more questions about this and want to get in touch with me, you can contact me at marty.karlson@gmail.com or you can contact me at the following email address: marty.karlson@gmail.com Happy Holidays! Martha L. Carlson I found the death date of my GGF Margaret Radcliff (along with her husband and daughter): Dec. 16, 1950 Owens-Powers Cemetery in Canton, Tx. 82157476af
